A prayer for our earth from Laudato Si.

All powerful God, you are present in the whole universe and in the smallest of your creatures.

You embrace with your tenderness all that exists.

Pour out upon us the power of your love, that we may protect life and beauty.

Fill us with peace, that we may live as brothers and sisters, harming no one.

O God of the poor, help us to rescue the abandoned and forgotten of this earth, so precious in your eyes.

Bring healing to our lives, that we may protect the world and not prey on it, that we may sow beauty and not pollution and destruction.

Touch the hearts of those who look only for gain at the expense of the poor and the earth.

Teach us to discover the worth of each thing, to be filled with awe and contemplation, to recognize that we are profoundly united with every creature as we journey towards your infinite light.

We thank you for being with us each day.

Encourage us, we pray, in our struggle for justice, love and peace. Amen.

23rd Sunday in Ordinary Time:

The readings tell us that as members of a faith community we are accountable to each other. The Church is the Body of Christ. When we sin, we are sinning against the Body of Christ. If we hurt another person, we are offending Christ within that other person as well as offending the entire Christian community. If we claim we are Christian, we have a responsibility to all other Christians to behave in a Christian way. We are accountable to each other, and to all others in the Church.

We come to Church every Sunday to form a community of prayer. None of us can form a community alone. We need each other to form this community. We come and pray as a community to the One who is our head and our heart. And we ask Him to protect us from the evils of the world, outside us and within us. We pray to God to bind us together into the community of love.

We need each other, and we need Jesus. And we have each other.

And we have Jesus. We are the Body of Christ. We are the Church.
